POETRY

Phe cow bosses are good-heaved chunks.

Some short, some heavy, more leng:
But don't matter what he looks like;
They all sing the same old song.
On the pialus, is the mountains, in the In the Bouth, where the days are long.
The bosses are different fellows;
Still they all sing the same old song.

"Sift along, boys, don't ride so slow; Hayen't got much time but a log round to go.

Quirt, him in the shoulders and rake him down the hip; I've cut you toppy mounts, boys, sow pair off and rip.

Bunch the herd at the old mest.

Then beat 'em on the tail; Whip am up and down the sides.

And hit the shortest trail."

NIGHT-HERDING SONG. Oh, slow up, degies, quit your raving found,
You have wandered and tramped all over the ground;
Oh, graze along, dogles, and feed black and forever be on the goods, move slow, dogies, move slow, dogies, move slow Hi-oo, hi-oo, oo-oo!

I have circle-herded, trail-herded, night-herded; and cross-herded tho.

But to keep you together, that's what I can't do:

My horse is leg-weary, and I'm awrul tired.

But if I let you get away, I'm sure to get fired.

Bunch up, little dogles, bunch up. Hi-oo, hi-oo, 00-00.

O say, little dogles, when you goth' to lay down.
And quit this forever shiftin' around? My limbs are weary, my seat is sore:
Oh, lay down, dogles, like you've laid before.
Lay down, little dogles, lay down. Hi-oo, hi-oo, oo-oo.

Oh. lay still, little dogles, since yeu have laid down.
Stretch away out on the big open ground;
Smore, little dogles, and drown the wild sound
That will all go away when the day rolls round.
Lay still, little dogles, lay still. Hi-oo, hi-oo, oo-oo.
